MISSOULA--

Dr. Harry W. Fritz, associate professor of history at the University of Montana, will discuss "The American Dream" at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 19, in room 215 of the UM Women's Center. The free public lecture is the last in the "American Issues Forum Bicentennial Lecture Series" at UM.

Commenting on his discussion, Fritz said he will focus on various "conceptions of the American dream and what is wrong with those conceptions." He will discuss ideological conceptions such as liberty, equality and individuality and materialistic conceptions such as success and riches. Fritz also will approach his subject from the concept of security by focusing on freedom from want and fear.

"The American dream is success, for example, but not everyone can be successful, or the American dream is riches, but not everyone can become rich," Fritz said.
